vEnkatAdri samam sthAnam brahmAndE nAsti kinchana, vEnkatEsa samO dEvO na bhUtO na bhavishyati (There is no shrine equal to Venkaatadri, there is no God on par with Sree Venkateshwara)

The Dhanurmasa sukla paksha ekadasi is called VaikunTa Ekaadasi. On this day the Lord is brought from the inner shrine through the northern gate known as the parama pada Dwaram (the gateway to salvation) or 'the Gate of VaikunTa'. Typically this gate which remains closed throughout the year, is opened only on this occasion. Devotees pass through this gate and attain punya. Lord Vishnu will confer all happiness in their present life as well as liberation after death. The importance of the ekadasi vrata is that one can conquer rajasic and tamasic tendencies in us through fasting. This helps us reach our ultimate destination, VaikunTa, which is the place or stage of no 'kuntitha' or dullness, stupidity and misery.

Please join to travel with the Lord thru parama padha dwaaram and get Moksha Siddhi.
